MEMORANDUM

To: Members of the Board of Education

From: Jerry D. Weast, Superintendent of Schools

Subject: Maryland State Department of Education Reporting of Highly Qualified Teachers

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide you with information regarding the number and percent of core academic classes being taught by teachers designated as highly qualified in the Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS). These data are compiled and reported by the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) for the previous year. Therefore, the data reflect staff designations as of December 1, 2006. MSDE will again compile data to report on December 1, 2007.

The federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) legislation required school districts to ensure that all teachers of core academic subjects met the requirements to be designated highly qualified by July 1, 2006. However, because no Maryland counties were able to comply with the 100 percent highly qualified designation by July 1, 2006, MSDE requested an extension until July 1, 2007, which was approved by the federal government.

A class is considered as being taught by a teacher designated highly qualified if the teacher is certified and has an academic major or has passed an appropriate PRAXIS test; completed the High, Objective, Uniform State Standard of Evaluation (HOUSSE); or holds an advanced professional certificate in the core academic subject he/she is teaching. Core academic subjects are English, language arts/reading, foreign languages, mathematics, science, the arts, elementary and early childhood education, and social studies.

The December 1, 2006, staff designations continue to limit the reported number of elementary art and music classes to one class per teacher per elementary school. As a result, the total number of core academic classes reported countywide has dropped from 31,119 as of December 1, 2003, when first reported, to 25,455 as of December 1, 2006.

Of the 25,455 core academic subject classes being taught by MCPS teachers as of December 1, 2006, 90.5 percent (23,048) were being taught by teachers who are designated highly qualified, and 9.5 percent (2,407) were being taught by teachers who are not yet designated highly qualified. The percent of core academic subject classes being taught by highly qualified teachers has increased by 5 percentage points since December 1, 2005, when 85.5 percent (21,855) of 25,569 core academic subject classes were being taught by teachers who were designated as highly qualified.

The Office of Human Resources continues to review the designations of all teachers who are teaching in core academic subjects. In collaboration with the Department of Reporting and Regulatory Accountability, Office of Human Resources staff works with MSDE to support accurate reporting of data and works in collaboration with Office of School Performance staff to support school administrators in assigning teachers to core academic subject classes for which they are designated as highly qualified. The NCLB legislation outlines a list of minimum requirements, both in content knowledge and teaching skills, to meet highly qualified status. NCLB requires teachers to have a bachelor's degree; have full state certification, not on an emergency, temporary, or provisional basis; and demonstrate content knowledge in the subjects they teach.

In November of 2006, the Office of Human Resources established a work group to address ways to ensure that all teachers of core academic subjects are designated highly qualified. The work group analyzed circumstances of teachers who had not yet met the highly qualified requirements and identified ways to assist them in being designated as highly qualified. The work group also addressed ways to help principals achieve the required goal of having 100 percent of the teachers of core academic subjects designated as highly qualified. Recommendations included training school leaders to support individual teachers by assigning teachers to subjects for which they are highly qualified, enhancing technology to assist principals and master schedulers in making well-informed decisions about the assignment of teachers to core academic subjects, and meeting with principals to fully inform them of the steps needed to ensure that all teachers of core academic subjects are highly qualified. In addition, the group recommended increasing partnerships with higher education institutions to expand the candidate pool in critical shortage areas.

Countywide, 94.6 percent of classes in the core academic area of social studies were taught by highly qualified teachers, followed by classes in elementary and early childhood education (94.3 percent), the arts (93.9 percent), English (90.7 percent), mathematics (88.7 percent), language arts/reading (88.5 percent), foreign languages (87.8 percent), and science (85.7 percent).

Under NCLB, states decide what is necessary for certification and for determining subject-matter competency. As a result, the specific criteria that must be satisfied to achieve the highly qualified designation vary from state to state. Therefore, a teacher coming to MCPS from outside the state of Maryland who was designated highly qualified in that non-Maryland jurisdiction may or may not be designated highly qualified by Maryland standards. MSDE continues to develop and refine the requirements for highly qualified teachers.

The attached data provide the number and percent of core academic area classes being taught by teachers who have been designated highly qualified and classes being taught by teachers who have not been designated highly qualified as of December 1, 2006. The complete report is available at <http://www.montgomeryschoolsmd.org/departments/regulatoryaccountability/pdf/reports/HQT2007.pdf>.
