MEMORANDUM

To: Members of the Board of Education

From: Jerry D. Weast, Superintendent of Schools

Subject: Maryland State Department of Education Reporting of Highly Qualified Teachers

This memorandum provides information regarding the number and percent of core academic classes in Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) being taught by teachers designated as highly qualified. As of December 1, 2008, 93.9 percent of MCPS core academic classes were being taught by teachers who are designated highly qualified. This is an increase from 92.5 percent of core academic classes taught by highly qualified teachers on December 1, 2007, and 90.5 percent of core academic classes taught by highly qualified teachers on December 1, 2006. These data are compiled and reported by the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE).

The federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) legislation required school districts to ensure that all teachers of core academic subjects met the requirements to be designated highly qualified by July 1, 2006. However, because no Maryland counties were able to comply with the 100 percent highly qualified designation by July 1, 2006, MSDE requested an extension until July 1, 2007, which was approved by the federal government. Maryland counties continue to strive toward this goal.

A class is considered as being taught by a teacher designated highly qualified if the teacher is certified and has completed an academic major or has passed an appropriate PRAXIS test; completed the High, Objective, Uniform State Standard of Evaluation (HOUSSE); or holds an advanced professional certificate in the core academic subject he/she is teaching (applies to educators with experience prior to July 1, 2007). Core academic subjects are English, language arts/reading, foreign languages, mathematics, science, the arts, elementary and early childhood education, and social studies.

Of the 20,182 core academic subject classes being taught by MCPS teachers as of December 1, 2008, 18,957 were being taught by teachers who are designated highly qualified, and 1,225 were being taught by teachers who are not yet designated highly qualified.

Countywide, 98 percent of classes in the core academic area of elementary and early childhood education are taught by highly qualified teachers, followed by classes in social studies and the arts (95.8 percent), English (94.1 percent), language arts/reading (92.6 percent), foreign languages (92.1 percent), mathematics (91.4 percent), and science (90.9 percent).

MCPS anticipates the number of core academic classes being taught by highly qualified teachers to increase for FY 2010. The Office of Human Resources continues to review the designations of all teachers who are teaching in core academic subjects. In collaboration with the Department of Policy, Records, and Reporting, Office of Human Resources staff works with MSDE to support accurate reporting of data and works in collaboration with Office of School Performance staff to support school administrators in assigning teachers to core academic subject classes for which they are designated as highly qualified. NCLB legislation outlines a list of minimum requirements, both in content knowledge and teaching skills, to meet highly qualified status. NCLB requires teachers to have a bachelor's degree; have full state certification, not on an emergency, temporary, or provisional basis; and demonstrate content knowledge in the subjects they teach.

Office of Human Resources staff continues to use various strategies to ensure that the number of highly qualified teachers teaching core academic subject(s) increases yearly. Principals are provided with data, updated weekly, showing each teacher's certification status and highly qualified designations, which assist them in making informed decisions about teacher assignments. In addition, the certification/highly qualified status of voluntary, involuntary, and return-from-leave employees is shared with principals who work with Office of Human Resources staff for appropriate placements. Conditionally certified teachers are no longer contracted unless the director, Department of Recruitment and Staffing, grants approval, and only for critical shortage areas. Credentials of special educators who are not yet highly qualified are reviewed for compliance and those teachers are encouraged to complete the necessary coursework or testing to be designated highly qualified. Educators who are teaching out-of-area are informed of the necessary testing or coursework to become highly qualified. In March 2009, a reminder memorandum was sent to all principals that all core academic subjects must be taught by highly qualified teachers for the entire school year as required by NCLB.

Striving toward 100 percent compliance, the Office of Human Resources has targeted recruitment trips to colleges and universities whose graduates have completed programs that meet NCLB highly qualified requirements. Office of Organizational Development staff and Office of Human Resources staff have developed and implemented university partnership programs to produce more highly qualified teachers in critical shortage areas.

Under NCLB, states decide what is necessary for certification and for determining subject-matter competency. As a result, the specific criteria that must be satisfied to achieve the highly qualified designation vary from state to state. Therefore, a teacher coming to MCPS from outside the state of Maryland who was designated highly qualified may or may not be designated highly qualified by Maryland standards. MSDE continues to develop and refine the requirements for highly qualified teachers.

The attached summary data provide the number and percent of core academic area classes being taught by teachers who have been designated highly qualified and classes being taught by teachers who have not been designated highly qualified as of December 1, 2008. The complete report is available at <http://www.montgomeryschoolsmd.org/departments/regulatoryaccountability/pdf/reports/HQT2009.pdf>.
