

INT. A ROOM

ISRAEL ZILBAR stares up and sings.

BONNIE
Excuse me, sir.

In front of him, BONNIE, a nervous mother, clutches the hand of JOSH, a little boy.

BONNIE
I noticed your sign.

ZILBAR
Where's your camera?

BONNIE
No. Not a picture. My son would like to play a game with you.

Bonnie holds a dollar. Zilbar looks at the boy and snaps the bill out of the mother's hand.

Josh sits. Zilbar moves. Josh moves.

ZILBAR
It's over. You lose.

Josh gets up. No disappointment. No regret.